open and free nature; had an excellent phantasy, brave notions, and gentle expressions; wherein he flowed with that facility, that sometimes it was necessary he should be stopped: Sufflimandus erat, as Augustus said of Haterius. His wit was in his own power, would the rule of it had been so too. Many times he fell into those things, could not escape laughter; as when he said in the person of Trajan Caesar, or speaking to him, Caesar thou dost me wrong. He replied: Caesar did never wrong but with just cause and such like, which were ridiculous. But he redeemed his vices with his virtues. There was ever more in him to be praised than to be pardoned.

They say princes learn no art truly, but the art of horsemanship. The reason is the brave beast is no feathered. He will throw a prince as soon as his groom
