

Goldman Sachs

July 5th

Dear Sir

I do not well understand from your written prescription how the herb is to be treated in order to make from it the proper lotion whether it is to be made by infusion or decoction and what proportion of water is to be used I understood that the preparation was to be made by the apothecary and therefore attended only to the directions respecting the use of the article.

I am with esteem

Yours

Robt Hare

I have the honour to send you some pamphlets

Faint handwritten text at the top of the page, possibly a name or address.

Faint handwritten text, possibly a date or salutation.

Main body of faint handwritten text, mostly illegible due to fading and bleed-through.

Faint handwritten text, possibly a signature or closing.

Faint handwritten text, possibly a name or address.

Faint handwritten text at the bottom of the page, possibly a signature or address.