

I.N. 222.912

Gründonnerstag 7. April 1882.

Dear, noble friend,

I hope, you have happily crossed the channel by this time, as there must have been fearful gales! You see, the letter, I enclose, prove, that your family had entrusted you to my care, but as I can't help it.

Blanche, reciprocates the Extra: Miss, I gave her for you & mourns, like I do, at your having so quietly run away.

Mrs Wannipeg is enchanted of you, and wrote, what a pity, to have such a short

sight and enjoyment of such a rare, excellent gentleman's company!
your conquest is perfect everywhere, and most of all at your longing after you, true, faithful & grateful, old friend

Maximilian

Pray, forgive paper & haste!
