

Handwritten title or header at the top of the page, possibly "Letter to..."

Several lines of very faint, illegible handwritten text in the upper section of the document.

The lower section of the document contains several paragraphs of very faint, illegible handwritten text, continuing the message from the top.